

Room To Stretch Your Wings

Red Hawk feels authentic, because it is. Shadowed by the picturesque Whetstone Mountains and the National Forest to the south, Red Hawk represents a western lifestyle unmatched for those seeking open spaces and unspoiled beauty.

Whether you seek seclusion or a close-knit community of friends, Red Hawk is everything you're looking for and more. This master planned community offers 3+ acre homesites in a beautiful setting amid mesquite-filled meadowlands, just 30 minutes from Tucson.

Red Hawk sits at an altitude of 4,300 feet for year-round cordial climate and clear, crisp air. Cool desert temperatures make living here enjoyable, with over 300 days of sunshine annually.

RED  HAWK
AT THE J-6 RANCH

Build Where The Best Meets West

When it comes to choosing a lot with views just right for you, to choosing a builder from our vetted and approved professionals, we'll help you with all of the steps to build your custom dream home at Red Hawk Ranch.

Underground utilities include water, electric, and phone, and roads are paved. Red Hawk offers limited horse lots on its western boundary, with direct access to open country trails and the nearby Empire Cienega Resource Conservation area, hosting a multitude of wildlife, flora and fauna.

Add a class A motorhome garage and make Red Hawk your home base for cross-country adventures. Endless options offer the chance to build the home you've always dreamed of.

Conveniently Remote

Red Hawk... a truly unique community offering lasting value in the spirit of the west. Just minutes from health care, entertainment and the amenities of modern life, but in a secluded, master-planned landscape that's beautifully rugged, removed and remote.

Interstate 10 at the J-Six Ranch Road exit, and one mile south, and you are home. Call 520-546-HAWK to arrange a private tour and visit us at www.redhawkj6.com

